Sheriff's Office Mobile Substation

Recently, The Sheriff's Office was awarded funding from the California State Homeland Security Grant Program to acquire a Dodge Ram ProMaster Van for use as a mobile substation. The mobile substation was outfitted with a desk, mobile data computer, police radio, wireless internet, and a large screen monitor.

The mobile substation may be used for a variety of public safety purposes including:

- Crime Prevention: High visibility crime prevention efforts at county parks and other public spaces.
- Community Policing: To support community events, public outreach, or recruitment and hiring functions.
- Command Post: To serve as an incident command vehicle during a natural disaster or other emergencies.
- Criminal Investigation: To support detectives and criminalists during field work.
- Training: To support in-service training or special team training events.
